Allison - Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy so can you switch me to the July 1 date and maybe move the riparian rule to July 15 (cc:ing Alan to see if the switch is okay)? As for folks in the first phase of the pesticides small team, it's going to be Alan and me with possible support from Helen Rueda. I'm assuming Allison and maybe Don or someone from EPA HQ will also be on the overall team looking at bigger picture issues and representing NOAA and EPA HQ, but if any of you want to be on the small team, feel free to let me know. In the second phase for the review of the response to comments, I'll bring in the EPA pesticides folks and look to Allison to let me know who from NOAA should review, unless Allison prefers to be the NOAA contact. Either ways works for me. We'll also have the CZARA attorneys and the Pesticide Case attorneys make sure the responses are legally reasonable.

For after the call, I'll work with the team on comments the first week of July and be prepared to have comments to the second phase of the team by mid-week of July 28th for their review. Then this will fall into your August 5 timeline for follow-up. If you need more info, feel free to give me a call.

Thanks - Jenny

Subject: Updated Review Schedule

All--

Based on our call, I updated our review schedule and filled in more specific dates. It's still very aggressive given all of the current things we have going on...prepping for the next issue, drafting decisions/responses for based on past decisions, and reviewing draft decisions/responses. However, there is not a lot of slack in the the schedule to give us much more time on the review end. If anyone has access to project mngt software and time to enter in our schedule, may be interesting to see a visual display of the timeline.

Please let me know your thoughts by COB Wed. (I'm out for a week beginning Friday) and would like to send around an updated schedule by COB Thurs.

Will send out additional Qs for the attorneys later today or tomorrow morning. Don, if you can send along the new devel and OSDS Qs that would be great (or just go ahead and forward to the attorneys again). I'll be sure to remind Jeff and make sure the meeting is on this calendar.

Allison
